Turn the triangle upside-down by moving one chip at a time. What is the fewest possible number of moves?