Problem 1. A box contains marbles, each of which is red, white or blue. The number of blue marbles is a least half the number of white marbles and at most one-third the number of red marbles. The number which are white or blue is at least 55. Find the minimum possible number of red marbles.

Solutions due by 10:00am Monday, August 29.